ORDER GRANTING MOTION FOR EARLY TERMINATION OF SUPERVISED RELEASE

Defendant Glenn P. Fernandez has moved for early termination of his supervised release term. The court grants the motion.

Fernandez was sentenced to a ten-year prison term for conspiring to distribute and possess with intent to distribute methamphetamine. He began his ten-year term of supervised release in August 2013. He has completed drug treatment, has not tested positive for prohibited substances, has a full-time job, and contributes to his son's support. He says that being off of supervised release will open up job opportunities for him with the City and County of Honolulu.

The Government opposes early termination, noting Fernandez's criminal history and prior drug use. But that was years ago, and this court is focused on more recent years. After getting released from a long prison term in the present case, Fernandez has been admirably diligent and appears committed to living a law-abiding life. This court thinks that, in the circumstances of this case, a four-year period evidencing that commitment to a law-abiding lifestyle warrants early termination of supervised release. The motion is granted.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

DATED: Honolulu, Hawaii; November 21, 2017.
